Breathe out, as morning brooks forth the sun, and as the bird soars in the air. Although the path of the sun is hard, the bird remains joyful. Therefore, you too should be joyful in your path. The bird soars above the earth and the sky, as the sun shines brightly. So too should you soar in your path.